

Consent Quick Guide

Listen for "YES"

Consent: A clear, knowing, voluntary and unambiguous agreement, expressed in mutually understandable words and actions, to engage in or give permission for a particular activity.

Make Sure "YES" Means "YES"

- 1. Consent is fundamental: You must obtain consent before engaging in or deciding to move forward with any type of sexual activity.
- 2. Consent requires communication: Verbal communication, before engaging in sexual activity, is required for consent. Discussing your, and your partner's sexual needs, desires, and limitations, is the basis of a positive and consensual experience.
- 3. Consent is Affirmative: Listen for a clear and positive agreement. These factors do not count: The absence of "No", silence, relying on body language, flirtation, coercion, marital or relationship status, power differentials, clothing choice, or a person's past behavior. The only affirmative statement of consent is "YES".
- 4. Consent is Voluntary: Consent must be given freely and willingly. There is no consent if one person is being subjected to emotional or psychological pressure, intimidation, coercion or fear.
- 5. Consent must be sober: A person who is impaired in any way, asleep, or mentally or physically incapacitated, either through the effect of drugs or alcohol, or for any other reason, is not capable of giving consent. Using alcohol or drugs may also seriously interfere with the initiating party's judgment about whether consent was sought or given.
- 6. Consent is not permanent: Consent at one time does not imply future consent. Consent must be given freely during each specific act of sexual activity.
- 7. Consent may be revoked: Consent is subject to change and can be revoked or withdrawn at any time. Consent must be clear at each stage of a sexual encounter: Consenting to one sexual activity does not imply consent to further or other sexual activity.
- 8. Consent is autonomous: A current or past sexual or intimate relationship, such as dating, marriage, or friendship, does not imply consent.
- 9. Consent is equitable: Consent is not valid when the individual pursuing the sexual activity holds power or authority over their partner, such as in an academic or workplace setting, or when one participant is under the legal age of consent.

Consent Requires Equality & Respect

UNDERSTANDING

10. Consent is essential.
Sexual Contact without consent is sexual assault.

What does OIE do?

New Mexico State University is committed to creating and maintaining a respectful, inclusive, and responsible learning and working environment.

The Office of Institutional Equity strives to support this commitment by promoting an inclusive, diverse, and supportive environment within the NMSU system, with the goal of enabling our employees and students to excel, regardless of age, ancestry, color, disability, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, serious medical condition, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, spousal affiliation, or protected veteran status, consistent with NMSU policy and state and federal laws.

To assist with this commitment, OIE is designated as the office that receives and processes all reports of unlawful discrimination for the NMSU system. OIE is a neutral investigatory unit. Dr. Laura Castille, OIE Executive Director, serves as Title IX, ADA, and AAP Coordinator, responsible for ensuring compliance with federal and state laws.

The Office of Institutional Equity offers live one-on-one and group training, and e-modules for Title IX, Consent/Healthy Relationships, Discrimination, Diversity & Inclusion, and Pregnancy/ADA accommodations.

To request a training, visit EQUITY.NMSU.EDU and SELECT Training Request
